

When the impression plate or stamp surface area is cut away and is pressed into your medium of choice clay, or fondant etc

The result is that area will be raised

When the area on the stamp or impression plate is raised it will be indented on the surface of your clay or fondant